basis than ever. Such good feeling north and south never previously existed, and it was constantly growing. He concluded by giving his thanks for the splendid reception the glorious German empire gives to Americans generally, and to students in particular. He copied the healths of the German emperor and the president of the United States, which were drunk with all the honors. The assembly called hearty greeting to President McKinley.

Ex-Consul Kreissmann also made a speech cordially welcoming Ambassador White and Consul General Goodschmidt, who, he said, were experienced and able officials. Dancing followed the banquet.

REVOLTING ALBANIANS.

Five Thousand Up in Arms Against Turkey.

Chesterfield, Ind., Nov. 26.—A nitro-glycerine explosion took place here this morning, which killed three men outright, fatally injured four or five more and demolished fifty houses. The houses were literally blown to fragments. A number of persons were more or less hurt, though not fatally so. The explosion occurred at a gas well one mile from the town. Even the adjoining towns were jarred. No cause is known why the explosion should have occurred.

Gaines Loses Out.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Gaines, the negro orator from Kentucky loses out in his application for Register of the Treasury. The appointment will go to Nashville.

CLAY IS ILL.

But His Child Wife Ate Thanks-giving Dinner With Young Bryant.

Valley View, Ky., Nov. 26.—The girl wife of Gen. Cassius M. Clay ate her Thanksgiving dinner at the home of her brother, McClellan Richardson, in company with William Bryant, her reputed friend and lover.

It is reported here that Gen. Clay is languishing on a bed of illness at his home, six miles from here.

THE WILL STRIKE.

Bold Activity of Gomez Alarms the Whole Island.

Havana, Nov. 25.—The patriots approached and fired on Marino last night. There was great excitement, and the volunteers were called out, and along with the troops, returned the fire. The residents were panic-stricken, and locked themselves in their houses. The patriots did not succeed in entering the town.

Gen. Gomez is massing men near Sagua, and is preparing to march westward to strike a potent blow before congress meets. Unusual activity is reported from all quarters. The Spaniards are also making preparations for action, but as yet each avoids the other.

ONE HUNDRED DELEGATES

Expected to Attend the Young People's Union at Versailles Next Week.

Versailles, Ky., Nov. 26.—Much preparation is being made for the entertainment of the delegates to the second annual State Convention of the Baptist Young People's Union, which meets in Versailles next Tuesday, Nov. 30th, and will continue in session to and including December 2. Over one hundred delegates are expected to be in attendance, representing every section of Kentucky.

The address of welcome will be delivered Tuesday evening by Rev. R. Lee Bowman, pastor of the Baptist church of this city, which will be responded to by Rev. E. V. Baldy, of Bowling Green. Addresses will be delivered during the meeting by Rev. John H. Eager, D. D.; Dr. F. H. Kerfoot, of Louisville; Rev. Calvin S. Blackwell, Ph. D., of Birmingham, Ala.; Rev. E. E. Chivers, D. D., of Chicago; Rev. Fred D. Hale, of Owensboro; Rev. B. A. Dawes, of Louisville, and by a number of other prominent men of that denomination.

NEGROES IN FOOT BALL.

One of the Contestants Used a Billy With Great Effect in Bucking the Line.

Frankfort, Nov. 25.—The only thing going on today was a foot ball match between two teams of negroes from Georgetown and Frankfort. This being the first game ever played here by negroes, a large crowd was in attendance, and witnessed a "great" game. One of the half-backs of the Georgetown team played with a short "billy" and used it with telling effect upon several of the Frankfort "gen-men."

THANKSGIVING

Observed By Americans In Berlin in Royal Style.

Berlin, Nov. 25.—More than three hundred guests were present at the Thanksgiving banquet given tonight at the Kaiserhof at which Ambassador White presided. Consuls Goldschmidt and Cole and the leaders of the American colony attended.

Mr. White was suffering from a severe cold, but he made a number of witty speeches. He recalled that when he was a student forty-one years ago the colony numbered only thirty persons. Reviewing the reasons for Thanksgiving celebration, he commented that the Union was on a firmer

SEVERAL CHANGES.

Will Be Made in the Police Force. The New Council to Inaugurate Them.

Five City Officers to Be Invested With Police Power and Appointed by the Mayor.—The State Will be Broken.

Mayor-elect Jas. M. Lang has completed his slate of police officers, but it will not be made public until December.

"I expect that the police officers will be appointed about the middle of December," he said to a reporter today.

You know there has got to be some legislation—some police ordinances—enacted before the appointments are made, hence the postponement. I find that, owing to the size of the beats, Paducah's police force is inadequate. It is much too small for the territory, no increase having been made since the city was enlarged by annexation.

But an increase of the police force will of course be with the council, which will have to pass the requisite ordinances.

"I'll tell you though a good plan. The lockup keeper, market master, license inspector, overseer of the chain gang and the street inspector will be reinstated with police power, as they were previous to the Republican administration. These ordinances will be passed as soon as the new council gets in, perhaps."

"This, then, will mean the appointment by the mayor instead of election by the council, will it not?" inquired the reporter.

"Well, yes," he admitted, "but the council will nominate gentlemen for this position at my request."

"Will there be many changes on the police force?" the mayor-elect was further asked.

He smiled, hesitated, and then quite said, with a knowing air, "I anticipate there will be a number of changes."

These facts in regard to the new administration are now given to the public for the first time. They mean that the slate will not be considered at the first meeting in December, in charter, in the matter of the election of all officers, says, "The council, at its first regular meeting, or within one month thereafter, shall elect," etc., which gives until January to elect the city officers.

The restoration of the five offices mentioned above to a place on the mayor's list of appointments, gives him much power and prestige.

Ordinances will have to be passed giving the five officers mentioned above police power, and it is more than likely that the salaries of police officers, at the same time, will be increased to $65 or more a month.

The Mayor will accordingly appoint the lockup-keeper, slabang overseer, market master, street inspector and license inspector, but says he requested the council to nominate the men it desires for the respective offices.

It is certain, from what Mayor-elect Lang hinted today, that there will be a number of changes in the new police force. It is also almost certain that the slate recently adopted at the caucus will be broken, and that there will be some changes, but how many is unknown. The election is over a month off, and a great many changes may take place within a month.

In regard to increasing the police force, however, Mayor-elect Lang thinks no increase is necessary in the day force, as with five additional officers invested with police power, the license inspector and market master out a great deal where a conservator of the peace may be needed, and the street inspector and overseer of the chain gang at leisure on a rainy day, there will be enough on the day force.

The night force may be increased one or two officers. At least one can be spared from the day force.

The council will adjust these matters, though, but the plan or policy outlined above has already been practically agreed upon.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

Five thousand Albanians are in armed revolt against Turkey. A flight took place with the Sultan's troops near Diakova.

Analysis of sugar beets grown in Stark county, Indiana, shows a percentage of 22% per cent. sugar in the juice.

The state convention of the Baptist Young People's Union will meet at Versailles next Tuesday.

The dormitory of Taungoo (Miss.) Negro University has been destroyed by fire.

A number of Cuban insurgents entered Havana Sunday and fired upon the castle.

A negro was lynched near Waycross, Ga., because he had stolen a mule. Another was lynched for outraging near Blackshear. Both were shot to death.

Some fair prices were realized at the Lexington horse sale yesterday, but many of the animals went for almost nothing, and three were given away.

It is expected that the President will devote a liberal share of his message to Alaska and the legislation needed to give it good government.

The Atlantic and Pacific Aerial Navigation Company has under construction an air ship in which it is proposed to go to the Klondike.

A bulletin by the Kansas Board of Agriculture shows an increase of 21 per cent. in the aggregate value of live stock and agricultural products this year as compared with 1896.

This, then, will mean the appointment by the mayor instead of election by the council, will it not?

AN OLD PADUCAHAN.

Death of Mr. Benjamin Franklin Moses Near Murray.

—Had Lived Here for Years.

The Deceased Was Born in North Carolina, and Was About

Seventy-Five Years of Age.

Mr. Benjamin Franklin Moses aged about 75 years, died last night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. L. Gilbert, near Murray, Caloway county, of old age.

The deceased was for years a well known and highly respected citizen of Paducah. He was born in North Carolina, and located in Caloway county, Ky., about 1830. He resided in Caloway county and the Woodville section of this county until about 1846, when he came to Paducah, and for several years kept the "Thompson House" at Third and Clark streets. He was married first to Mrs. Jones, a sister of the late Messrs. A. S. and E. B. Jones, who died, leaving three children, all of whom are still alive.

Mr. Moses left Paducah and remained away for some time, but returned and was proprietor for several years.

The deceased was married here during his later life to the Widow Anderson, who also died.

He leaves three children, Mr. A. H. Moses, of St. Louis; Mrs. A. J. Wyatt, of Baird county, and Mrs. W. L. Gilbert, of near Murray. He was a half brother to Senator W. J. Oglevie, and leaves many distant relatives in this, Baird and Caloway counties.

The remains will reach the city from Murray tonight at 10 o'clock, and be buried tomorrow at Oak Grove, the funeral arrangements to be made later.

A PAINFUL FALL.

Mrs. Thielman Hurt at the Market House.

Mrs. John Thielman, a well known old lady who has sold vegetables on the market for many years, received painful injuries this morning by falling from her stool. She is about 72 years old, and somewhat infirm, and this rendered her fall more serious than it otherwise would have been.

Dr. Redlick was called and found her suffering with a partial dislocation of the hip.

Two Kentucky couples married there yesterday.

Two Kentucky couples were married in Metropolis yesterday. These were James Boone and Miss Leah Davis, of this county, and Chas. Syer and Miss Elmer Nancy, of Graves county. The latter couple eloped.

It is believed that Nicholasyville that the tollgates on the state turnpike, seven in number, are replaced, they will be torn down by raiders, whether guarded or not. County Judge Phillips says he will appoint guards if requested, but it is thought the militia will eventually have to be called out.

Thanksgiving Day foot ball was very much in evidence yesterday, despite the fact that the big Eastern games were over. Coal miners surprised everybody by holding the champion Pennsylvania team down to 7 to 0. Chicago had four big games, and Cincinnati University was defeated by the Carlisle Indians 10 to 0.

Stephen Atkins, who was released from the penitentiary Wednesday morning and was rearrested that night at Georgetown on a warrant from Rockcastle county, claims that Prison Guard Lee Arnold held the warrant until late the night before Atkins' release, before giving it to a deputy sheriff, in order to give Atkins a chance to get away. Arnold denies this, but the warden will probably investigate the case.

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.

It is reported on seeing good authority that the Home of the Friendless will in a short time be converted into an orphan's home, and thereafter be exclusively a refuge for parentless or homeless children, and possibly temporarily for homeless women. The success of the benevolent ladies of the institution has seemingly been greater with the children than with the women, and then, there is a wider and more satisfactory field for good work in caring for and providing for the education of the rising generation who have no one to bring them up in the paths in which they should go. While it perhaps has never been frankly stated before, publicly at least, the general public would more generously and more willingly help sustain an orphan's home than the institution. The home now is, or once was, probably because they think better results will be obtained from the former. In other words, some people have been unfriendly toward the Home because they deemed its mission, while a most commendable one, a futile one, and many, on this account, have taken little interest in it from the start. But should the plan mentioned above be inaugurated, the foundation will be laid for a noble institution, which in future years may prove an abounding monument to the Christian zeal and enterprise of Paducah's charitable people.

Dr. P. H. Stewart, who can never keep a joke, whether it is on himself or somebody else, relates a tangible occurrence of which he was recently the unhappy victim. Not long ago he was down at Bardwell, and while there received an invitation to a party. He concluded to attend, but first effected a promise from the hostess that she would introduce him as an unmarried man, for a married man seldom has any fun at a party, so he explained. He was introduced at the party as "Young Dr. Stewart, of Paducah," and all the guests thought he was single and just too cute for any use. With characteristic popularity he soon found very congenial company, and, to use a little slang, had three pretty girls on the string.

All went well until some one asked for a little music, and, in response, a member of the company rendered a vocal selection. After the applause had subsided the hostess, who often visits Paducah, turned to the doctor and exclaimed, in guileless ecstasy, "Oh, doctor! I'll never forget how sweetly your little boy sang that in Paducah one night." The doctor collapsed, and three of the prettiest girls blushed almost audibly. He was so disgrimed by the exposure that he escaped before refreshments were served, and hasn't been to a party since.

"Say, did you hear about that drummer getting drowned at Creel Springs?" asked the drummer with a bold head, as he set his sample case on the counter and unbuttoned his overcoat.

"Why, no? Tell me about it, how was he drowned?" asked the customer in one breath, as he looked admiringly at the drummer's big drum.

"Why he went through the matress and fell into the springs!" replied the drummer, with a victorious grin.

"Aph! that's nothing," retorted stammer, "we had a drummer to a worse death than that in a hotel here."

"That so! How did it happen?"

"Oh, in drinking one of Don Gliberto's cocktails he swallowed a feather, and it tickled him to death."

"Well, I guess the cigars are on me," concluded the drummer, as he dug in.

Talking about funny things," began a drummer at the Palmer House last night, "I saw a most side-splitting incident at Fort Worth, Texas, several weeks ago. That fellow Schrader, I believe his name is, the living healer, was billeted for the town, and the lithographs of himself were almost fac-similes of pictures you see of Christ. This of course aroused the curiosity of the people and when he arrived they flocked to see him by the hundred. He went to work healing the lame, halt and blind right away, and every thing went well until some wags put up a joke on him. They took a muscular young man into the building one day on a cot, all bandaged up with cotton and stuff, and left him to the tender mercies of his majesty. The latter without asking what was the matter, proceeded to cure him, and in a short time the fellow jumped up, danced about in the presence of the amazed spectators, and then ran outside where a bicycle was in readiness and rode off."

The people went wild and a demand

FASCINATION OF FOIBLES.

Little Pratilities May Make the Possessor of Them More Loyal:

No man is sincerely and securely loved, except by those who know his foibles," says Sir Arthur Helps.
